A NEAR CALL OF DEATH.

Driver Falls from Load of Hay, and Horses Run Away.

This morning a pair of horses attached to the big wagon of H. L. Marsh & Co. ran away on West Broadway, and Driver Hattub had as near a call of death as he cares to have. In climbing on the pile of hay he reached for the reins, but slipped and fell onto the pole. The horses were off at once. He clung to the pole, hanging beneath it while the horses ran. At Marlborough street they could not make the turn, but went straight into the fence at Dr. Howard's property, the pole carrying away the fence and allowing the horses free entrance to the yard. In some way Hattub here swung out from beneath, thoroughly scared, but when he was looked over by persons assembled not a scratch was seen.

FOG AND MORE RAIN.

After a very pleasant afternoon the fog settled down Sunday night just about 10 o'clock, and shut down so hard that it seemed to be a close board fence. It was just before the New York boat left, and at the time when every stam launch in the navy seemed to be busily running to and from the landings with the last of the liberty party parties. Later, somewhere about 2 o'clock this morning, it rained. The rain gauge at teh Water Works pumping station gave .05 as the total fall. It did seem that more water came down in connection with the fog than .05.

All the 40 churches of the diocese will be represented by their rectors and lay delegates, making a body of about 200 members.

It had been expected that Rt. Rev. Arthur S. Lloyd, D. DISEASE AND FLIES.

Dr. Baldwin Speaks at Mt. Zion Literary Meeting.

At a meeting of the Mt. Zion Literary Association Sunday afternoon Dr. Mary E. Baldwin spoke of the prevention of diseases, dwelling particularly on the need of fly extermination. She explained that great plagues had been traced to the germ-carrying flies, and spoke of the carelessness often seen around the homes. In this connection Dr. Baldwin mentioned the last clean-up day, and showed how much better it would be for everybody to exercise a little precaution and keep things tidy and clean.

The lecture was supplemented with stereopticon pictures, relating to civic welfare and cleanliness. Mr. Ivan S. Coggeshall operated the machine, while J. Wellington Willard, president of the club, was in the chair. Miss Olive Jeter sang a solo, accompanied on the piano by Miss Catherine Hurley.

THREE SMALL FIRES.

The firemen have had three runs for small fires since Saturday noon. The first alarm, at 8:10 Saturday night, was for a real fire at 32 Holland street, in a house owned by M. A. McCormick and occupied by Mrs. Ferris. A mattress caught in an upper sleeping room and caused considerable smoke, and the loss of the mattress. Chemical 2 and hose 1 responded.

At 3:42 Sunday afternoon Chemical 2 and hose 7 were called on to do a chimney-cleaning act at 51 Lee avenue, in a house owned by J. Murphy.

At 12:01 Monday noon chemical 1 was called to the house of I. Vietri, 26 Second street. It was another case of chimney cleaning.

MORGAN'S CHIEF OBJECT TO EFFECT ECONOMY.

Question of Restraining Competition Was Not Mentioned.

Schwab Says No Other Corporation Has Done More to Foster Trade.

NEW YORK, May 19.—When the late J. P. Morgan organized the United States Steel Corporation his sole object was to effect economy in the steel industry, not to obtain a monopoly or to suppress competition.

Charles M. Schwab, first president of the corporation, and the man who suggested its organization to Mr. Morgan, so testified today at hearings of the suit to dissolve the corporation as a combination in restraint of trade. Testifying as a witness for the defense, Mr. Schwab described the conversation he had with Mr. Morgan afer he had broached the idea at a dinner in 1899. "From the moment I started my conversation with Mr. Morgan," he said, "the question of obtaining a monopoly or restraining competition was never mentioned. Neither he nor his associates ever mentioned any object in forming the corporation other than that of economy—none whatever."

Mr. Schwab, who is now chairman of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, one of the United States Steel's largest competitors, declared that "No other factor or influence has done more to foster trade, to establish fair and open dealings and to stimulate healthy and effective competition than the United States Steel Corporation."

Questioned by R. V. Lindabury of counsel for the corporation, Mr. Schwab repeated much of the testimony he gave before the Stanley committee of the House of Representatives and again described the famous dinner given him in 1899 by prominent financiers, including the late J. P. Morgan, at which Schwab made a plea for consolidation in the steel industry, on the ground of economy.

Mr. Schwab said he explained to Mr. Morgan that a combination of certain steel companies would bring about a "completely integrated organization, which would have the advantages of the possession of raw materials, transportation and plants which would enable it to conduct the business from the mining of ore and coal right through to the manufacture and sale of every finished product.

"I also pointed out to him," he said, "that the steel business had been nominal in regard to export business, and a half dozen individual companies manufacturing one or two lines of products could not do an export business because they could not, individually, maintain the necessary facilities in foreign countries. I told him only by combination of these companies could the export business be made profitable."

Mr. Schwab described the negotiations which lead to the purchase of the Carnegie Steel Company by Mr. Morgan, who then controlled the Federal Steel Company, and the organization of the steel corporation in 1901.

All the economies which he had detailed to Mr. Morgan were put into effect, the witness continued, and the export business was immediately developed.

"Do you know of any other concern that has succeeded in the export market?" asked Mr. Lindabury.

"I do not," was the reply.

On the other hand Mr. Schwab said the competitors of the corporation in the domestic market had grown "the Bethlehem Steel Corporation most of all," he added with laugh.

"The policy of the corporation toward its competitors was not one to stifle competition," Mr. Schwab said. "Its policy was to publish prices once a week and to stick to them. There was no secret undercutting as in the old days."

Asked to explain why the price of steel rails had remained fixed at $28 a ton Mr. Schwab said that that figure "had been deemed a fair price" by both the manufacturers and the railroads. "I never knew of a railroad man," he said, "who thought the price ought to be lower."

TWO DEATHS.

Frederick U. Gladding, Formerly of Newport, and Mrs. Gustavus Stimpson.

Word was received today of the death of Frederick U. Gladding at his residence in Pawtucket Sunday. Death was sudden, and due to an attack of acute indigestion. Mr. Gladding leaves a widow in Pawtucket and a daughter, Miss Leila Gladding, in Newport. In Pawtucket he was yard clerk for the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, and had resided there a number of years. Interment will take place here in the family lot tomorrow afternoon.

Mr. Gladding was a native of Newport, and for many years in the employ of the late B. B. H. Sherman, succeeding Mr. Sherman in the grocery business. He was a past sachem of Weenat Shassit Tribe of Red Men, and for a number of years a member of the Red Men's Club. In 1907 he was elected to the Representative Council for two yars, but resigned at the end of the first year because of removal from the city. Mr. Gladding leaves a brother, Mr. Samuel P. Gladding of this city.

Mrs. Stimpson, wife of Mr. Gustavus Stimpson, died Sunday morning at her home on Congdon avenue, after a week's illness. She had not been seriously ill, and her death was unexpected. Mr. and Mrs. Stimpson had been residents of Newport about 25 years, coming here from Lowell, Mass. Mr. Stimpson has been in the employ of the A. & H. G. Hammett Company nearly all the time since coming to Newport, and has been for many years secretary of Rhode Island Lodge of Odd Fellows. The body of Mrs. Stimpson will be taken to Lowell for interment.

My Wife's People Are Well To Do.

Suppose you put this proposition up to your wife: "In the event of my death, which would you prefer, to be left independent, so that you could take care of yourself and the children, or to be left dependent on your relatives." Would she not say: "By all means arrange your affairs so that I shall be independent. It would be humiliating to ask my relatives to take care of me, and of your children."

CALLS WAR TALK MERCENARY.

Bryan Attacks Armor Plate Sellers and Sensational Newspapers.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Vigorous denunciation of a "subsidized patriotism which seeks to create war because of the profits in armor plate and battleships" and of the "sensational and mercenary newspapers, which prefer big scare-headlines to the truth," marked an address by Secretary Bryan here today, at The Hague anniversary meeting, held under the auspices of the Washington Peace Society. It was in celebration of the fourteenth anniversary of the first meeting at The Hague.

"War is in the interest of but a few people not of all," Mr. Bryan declared. "The profits are garnered by a few, while the masses pay the taxes. A few men gain glory, while the mothers of the nation furnish the sons who make food for battlefields. War rests upon feeling, not upon necessity. Back of much of the furore for war is a selfish interest in the manufacture of battleships and there are men so unpatriotic that they try to stir up trouble in another country against their own so as to make personal profits therefrom. Is there any baser use for money?"

"The people are learning to discriminate," said the Secretary, "between patriotic newspapers and those that seek only for big headlines. I am glad to see the attacks "Secretary Daniels made on this sensationalism. I hope to see this discrimination by the people increased."

Secretary Bryan expressed the belief that in time this country would have treaties with all other nations, providing for efforts to arbitrate all questions in dispute, and that other nations would follow this country's example. These agreements, he said, would make it "almost impossible to bring this country into war with any other contracting nation."

ALASKA TO BE DEVELOPED.

Secretary Lane's Government Railroad Project Approved.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—It is believed in Washington that the declaration of Secretary of the Interior Lane in favor of "opening up Alaska" by government railroad building means that at last something is to be done for the development of this long-neglected territory.

Walter L. Fisher, Secretary of the Interior in President Taft's cabinet, proposed the plan now endorsed by his successor, and at a recent Senate committee meeting it was demonstrated that all factions interested in the future of Alaska are behind the plan for having it developed by the government. Delegate Wickersham, a Progressive-Republican; Gifford Pinchot, who has heretofore opposed any method of exploitation because of his devotion to the policy of conservation, and "Jack" Strong, the new governor, who will be sworn into office about the first of June, have joined hands. And it looks as if capital would at last have a chance to see what can be done in the way of developing this great territory belonging to the United States.

There is no serious opposition to the plan as outlined by Secretary Lane, and the only persons in Alaska who do not look with favor on the project for a government-owned railroad are those who own nominally coal lands in Alaska as representatives of others and who would prefer to realize on the claims which they hold in the absence of direct title, by disposing of their properties to a big railroad syndicate like that of the Guggenheims, which will certainly exploit and develop Alaska should the government decide not to do so.

BODIES BADLY BURNED.

Fifteen Removed from Wrecked Ohio Mine, and One Rescuer Dead.

BELLE VALLEY, Ohio, May 18.—Burned and blackened, the bodies of 15 miners who lost their lives early last evening, when an explosion of firedamp partially wrecked the Imperial mine, were brought to the surface today by rescuers, working under the direction of Deputy State Inspector Abel Ellwood. Several attempts were made by rescue parties to enter the mine last night, but the gas had not vanished sufficiently to allow the rescuers to reach the bodies until after daylight this morning.

Nearly all the 1,000 inhabitants of Belle Valley gathered at the mine entrance after the explosion, and stood for hours watching the work of the rescuers. Grief of relatives was pitiable, as the bodies of their loved ones were brought out of the pit. The bodies were found a mile and a quarter from the mouth of the mine, lying on their faces and badly burned.

Henry Fairhurst, a member of the first rescue party to enter the mine last night, was overcome by gas and died soon after being taken to the surface. Orville McCune, a companion, was overcome but revived, and will live.

WOMEN CONTRIBUTE $34,877.

Day's Record at Southern Baptist Convention in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, May 18.—The raising of $34,877 for the Judson mission offering was the result of the day's proceedings of the Southern Baptist convention. The money was raised by the Women's Missionary Union, at a mass meeting at which only women were present. Alabama led all the states with a contribution of $8,225.

During the services a large number of young women, dressed in the costumes of all the foreign countries in which the Southern Baptists have missionaries, marched into the auditorium singing gospel songs and bearing flags of the nations represented.

More than 400 sermons were preached by visiting Baptists in the various churches of St. Louis during the day, some of the visiting preachers speaking three times. Speaking before the Women's Missionary Union at the night meeting, Mrs. Julian P. Thompson of Richmond, Va., said, concerning the missionary funds raised, that the union would soon be able to raise $1,000,000 a year for missions. The Union, during the last year, raised one-third of the total amount of money for missionary purposes reported to the convention from all sources.

CRUISER NEWARK TO BE SOLD.

The Navy Department will soon offer for sale cruiser Newark. This vessel was built by the William Cramp Shipbuilding Company in 1888 at a contract price of $1,284,000 and was first placed in service in 1891. Until recently she was station ship at Guantanamo, Cuba, and was transferred several months ago to the Norfolk navy yard. The department offered the use of the vessel to the Maryland naval militia, which declined the offer on account of the high cost of maintaining her.

(F. O. B. Syracuse)

WE sold more motor trucks last year than any other manufacturer in the country and we still continue to do so.

Does that fact have any weight with you? It means that an army of level-headed American merchants regarded the Chase Truck as the "best buy" and they bought it. You can afford a Chase Truck.

Six Efficient Models. Capacities 500 to 4000 lbs. Every Style of Body.

Soak a calf's liver in cold water for 20 minutes, drain and wipe with a clean cloth. Lard the surface of the liver with thin strips of fat bacon. Melt two tablespoonfuls butter in a saucepan or earthenware dish, fry in it one bay leaf, one sliced onion, one diced carrots and half a teaspoonful of herbs; when a golden brown lay in the liver, and let brown slowly; pour off the fat and add one cupful of rich brown sauce and half a cupful of stock. Season with salt and pepper, cook slowly for half an hour. Add a glassful of sherry wine, the strained juice of half a lemon, one teaspoonful of chopped parsley. Boil up, lift the liver on to a hot dish, reduce the liquid a little and strain over the liver.

Quince Pudding.

Cook one-half cupful of pearl sago in one quart of boiling water in a double boiler for half an hour. Put one pint of canned quinces in a pudding dish, add enough sugar to sweeten the sago, which is to be turned over the quinces and baked about half an hour. It can be served hot with a butter sauce, but it is better served cold with cream.

NEW BRIGADIERS NAMED.

Colonels John P. Wisser and Thomas F. Davis to be Promoted.

Colonel John P. Wisser, coast artillery corps, and Colonel Thomas F. Davis of the infantry, will be promoted to the grade of brigadier generals, succeeding Brigadier Generals Frederick A. Smith and Walter S. Schuyler, who were retired on account of age. These promotions are the result of probably the most detailed investigation ever conducted as to the merit of applicants for promotion to the rank of brigadier general, the policy of the new Secretary of War being to adhere to a policy to give recognition to an officer's service and ignore all political or personal considerations.

RAGTIME.

[Washington Star.]

Oh, the ragtime of the present
Is in many ways unpleasant,
For it makes sedate and proper tunes seem tame.
We stoutly disapprove it
And we threaten to remove it,
But it gets us all a-dancing just the same.
It is not in music solely
That its influence unholy
Is exerted the proprieties to balk,
But it permeates existence,
With insidious persistence,
And it gets into our thinking and our talk.

Everybody now is seeking
In his writing or his speaking
To present the public with a novel shock.
There is nothing very clever
In serene and kind endeavor,
So we all get hammers and begin to knock.
Even where the statesmen gather,
Language grows audacious, rather;
It occasionally makes us hold our breath.
Will this craze for syncopation
Give us ragtime legislation
As it sets a pace that scares us half to death?

FANCIES.

Oh, lovely woman, do not frown.
Your way is surely right.

THE "CLEAN-UP" REFORM.

The movement started last year for cleaner cities has become far-reaching, and "clean-up days" are inaugurated in many places. New York has in a great measure set the pace in this reform through the activities of its health authorities. Health Commissioner Lederle is a most zealous head of his department and his force of able and willing assistants has accomplished great good, not only in active sanitary measures, but in inculcating a spirit for cleanliness among the citizens which will be a lasting benefit to the city. Dr. McMillan of the department is reported as saying:

"The clean-up has been a big success, but I think that no such accumulation should ever be permitted to be stored away in this city again. I believe that a definite clean-up would not be necessary in the future if from now on the street cleaning department should cart away daily all the varieties of rubbish offered. And that is as it should be."

It will be noticed that the doctor recommends that the city carts should take away "all varieties of rubbish." In Newport many things which the carts will not take have to be left on the premises unless removed at the expense of the owner. The direct effect of this is that they are not removed at all until they become a positive menace to the health of the neighborhood. There is room for improvement in this city's system of the collecting of house waste.

THE GOVERNMENT AND HEALTH.

That the government should do more to protect the health of the people ought to be evident to every one, and to need little or no argument. It is undoubtedly true, as has been declared by some advocates of a health department of the federal government, that more is done for the protection of cattle than for the care of human beings in this country. That such a condition should not continue is clear to all right-thinking people, and it is time the government undertook with interest and energy the work of giving to the people such protection as can easily be given without interfering with the health departments of states and cities. There is no need of confusion in that direction, for the work the government should do is not such as is now being done by state and city health boards, but should be on a wider scale and broader basis.

It should consist largely in the collecting of important information concerning the public health, the prevalence of diseases and other statistics which will help to make and keep the people well, the dissemination of that information so that the whole country can profit by it, and the putting up in every reasonable way of barriers against the propagation and distribution of diseases. This is a perfectly legitimate function of the government, and there is no reason for any dispute over that question or for any conflict of relations between the government and the state or city authorities over the exercise of such functions.

The need of better efforts against the dissemination of diseases is plain enough, and the fact is also evident that there is a kind of work for the protection of the health of the people that the federal authorities can do better than the health departments of states or cities. The health and the lives of the people are of the utmost importance, and should not be neglected while those of cattle are cared for. The government has a proper and an important field of labor and achievement in this line, and there should be no delay in undertaking it.

The Department of Agriculture has done a great work for those engaged in that avocation by the collection and distribution of information concerning the care of animals and the cultivation of crops, and the government can do just the same sort of work, which will be even more important, in the collection and dissemination of information for the care of the health of the people and the best methods of warding off disease and fighting it after it has made its appearance. There are no adequate statistics of this sort and such as there are are not collected and collated in a manner to be available easily to all interested in the subject. Government information, however, would be at the service of all, and could be quickly used to the great benefit of the people. A uniform system of vital statistics for the whole country would thus be established, and would be of untold value to the medical profession.

It is evident that the battle against disease cannot be made in ignorance of what is being fought or the best means of fighting. There must be information and knowledge if there is to be effective warfare. The only means of securing such knowledge on a national scale is through the federal government, and that government is bound to supply such information if it is to do its full duty to the people. There has been a wonderful development of the pursuit of agriculture under the direction and inspiration of government attention, and there should be a similar development of remarkable proportions and achievement in the protection of the public health.

BRYAN'S DELUSION.

Secretary Bryan's speeches on the binding character of national platforms is very generally supposed to be inspired by his wish to limit the President to a single term. This may do him an injustice, but if that be his motive he is deluding himself. He cannot secure the nomination three years hence unless he does for his party what Mr. Roosevelt did for the Republicans last year, and in that case, of course, he could not be elected.

Unless Mr. Wilson's administration shall be discredited by some great reverse, he is absolutely certain of being renominated. If a business depression should fall upon the country it would hurt all the Democrats, and he would not suffer more than the rest. Undoubtedly Mr. Bryan inserted in the Baltimore platform that declaration for a single term, but Mr. Wilson has never assented to it, and it is absurd to pretend that he or his party is bound by it. No convention can bind the next convention; if it could there would be no occasion for the adoption of a platform by each convention; one platform would last indefinitely. As it is, it is a very durable platform which lasts through a single administration.

The Baltimore convention expressed its opinion that if Mr. Wilson were elected the convention of 1916 should not nominate him again, but that convention will be perfectly free to do as it likes. If the convention of 1912 could add to the party creed the dogma of a single term the next convention would have equal liberty to abbreviate the party creed by disregarding the single-term declaration.

The friends of Mr. Bryan and Mr. Clark might just as well face the fact that their idols cannot be nominated except by beating Mr. Wilson, and the mere effort to do so would split the party as the effort to prevent the nomination of Mr. Taft last year split the Republican party. Mr. Wilson has not the slightest idea in the world of stepping out of the way of the Secretary of State and the Speaker of the House, and the President for the time being is a mighty hard man to beat: even Mr. Roosevelt could not beat Mr. Taft in the convention.

Representatives of American manufacturers are reported to be "coming to Washington in droves" to work against the Democratic tariff bill. The small majority of two on the Democratic side in the Senate and the "wobbly" condition of half a dozen Senators who make up that majority have encouraged the manufacturers to hope that they may prevent the passage of the bill in its present form. A number of Southern Senators are being threatened with defeat in the popular vote 18 months hence, if the proposed cotton schedule goes through, and similar pressure is being brought to bear on the Western Senators with regard to the wool schedule. President Wilson is insistent that the bill, without amendment, shall become a law, and a lively fight among the Democrats is in sight.

The report comes from Japan that the Japanese have faith in the American people to see that justice is done the Japanese in the alien-land-owning legislation in this country. They also say that the war talk is ridiculous, and circulated only to embarrass the two governments, which are laboring for a peaceful settlement by diplomacy. There is no real war talk in this country, and no one except the jingo newspapers and their following are thinking of war. Nearly every one is confident that the trouble will be soon straightened out.

Congress is likely at its present session to enact a law which will deal in a punitive way with the establishment in the District of Columbia of sham universities which are working there. Under existing law the sole requirement for becoming a college or university in the District is that any five persons can incorporate by signing a document stating it to be their intention to do so, and no official of the government, national or municipal, has any authority in the matter.

The waters of the Pacific have been let into the Panama canal, the dike to the south of the Miraflora locks having been broken by dynamite, allowing the water to flow into an extensive section in which excavations have practically been completed. This is the begining of the end of the work on the canal. There is, however, plenty of work yet to be done before the canal is open to passage.

The government has proclaimed martial law in Nicaragua, declaring that the tranquillity of the republic is threatened. The promulgation of the decree follows the discovery of hidden arms in all parts of the country, and from the large quantities of rifles and ammunition found the government believes a plot to start a revolution is widespread.

A Chicago clergyman announces that hereafter he will not accept fees for marriages, because they are "graft", and as such should be abolished. "If the church insists that marriage is a rite that belongs to it," he said, "then the church should make marriages free to all."

Newport will miss the ships and the sailors, but they will be back in a few days.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.

Miss Helen Coster to Marry Sumner Gerard of New York.

The engagement of Miss Helen Coster, daughter of Mrs. Charles Henry Coster, to Mr. Sumner Gerard is announced. Miss Coster and Mr. Gerard are members of families which have been identified with society in New York several generations. Miss Coster's father, who died in March, 1900, leaving a large estate, was for several years a member of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. Mrs. Coster was Miss Emily Pell, a member of the well known family of that name. Miss Emily Pell Coster, elder sister of Miss Helen, was married to Mr. Lewis Spencer Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lewis Morris, April 6, 1907. She has a younger sister, Miss Maud Coster. Her brother is Mr. Charles Henry Coster.

Mr. Gerard is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James W. Gerard, and, like his father and brother, Justice James W. Gerard of the supreme court, he is a lawyer, being a member of the firm of Messrs. Gerard & Smyth. His mother was the daughter of B. F. Angel of Genesee, N. Y., where Mr. Gerard spent much of his youth, thereby qualifying for membership in the Society of the Genesee. Justice Gerard married Miss Mary A. Daly, daughter of the late Marcus Daly. Mr. Julian M. Gerard, another brother, married Miss Elizabeth Schedel.

After his course at the Groton School Mr. Gerard attended Yale, from which he graduated in 1897; he graduated from the Harvard Law School in 1900. Mr. Gerard is a member of the Union, Racquet and Tennis, Manhattan and Automobile clubs. His home is at No. 101 Park avenue.

Mrs. Coster and her children have left their city home in New York for their place at Tuxedo for the spring and summer. It is expected that the marriage will take place there in June.

WEATHER FOR THE WEEK.

Generally fair weather over the eastern portion in the early days of this week, with a continuance of showers in the Pacific states, may be expected, according to the Weather Bureau's weekly bulletin. By the middle of the week the showers should extend Thursday or Friday into the lower Lake region, the Middle Atlantic states and New England. After the middle of the week generally fair weather should prevail west of the Mississippi river for a few days, with higher pressure, but by the end of the week another disturbance will probably appear over the Canadian Northwest.

Temperatures will be moderately low early in the week over the middle and northern sections, and higher later in the week, but not unusually so.

AS TO CANAL COMMISSION.

Colonel Goethals to Consult With Secretary of War Garrison.

[Washington Correspondent New York Tribune.]

Army officers who have returned recently from the Panama Canal zone, quote Colonel Goethals as far less anxious to substitute the permanent government of the canal for the canal commission than he was when he was last in Washington, early in January.

This change of view is attributed to certain discoveries which the colonel has made in the canal act, notably one which provides that the compensation of labor on the Isthmus shall not be more than 25 per cent higher than would be paid for the same class of labor in the United States. This would mean a material reduction of the wages of the more than 55,000 employes now on the works, and would undoubtedly result in serious dissatisfaction, perhaps even so reducing the force as to retard completion of the canal.

The Secretary of War, who cannot find time to go to the Isthmus, has summoned Colonel Goethals to Washington to clear up this situation before the President makes his contemplated inspection trip to the canal. Colonel Goethals is expected to sail for Washington in a few days.

Whether there is a change in the form of government of the canal or not, Colonel Goethals is reasonably certain to recommend that most of his military associates remain on the work, notably Colonels Galliard, Hodges and Sibert, of the army, and Civil Engineer Rousseau, of the navy, as well as Colonel Gorgas, of the medical department of the army. It is not expected that the civil governor of the zone, Mr. Thatcher, will be retained, as he is a Republican, and there are numerous Democratic aspirants for his $14,000 a year place, while there is no reason to believe that Colonel Goethals will object to a change in his case, as the duties of the post are not exacting.

Every effort is being made to carry the canal to completion, and the force now employed is larger than at any previous time. Exact information as to the progress of the work is not being made public. Data relative to the slides and the amount of excavation and the concrete laid are given out, but these are in themselves insufficient to enable one to form an accurate estimate of the actual progress, becaus certain slids will in no way way retard the opening of the big ditch, and the progress of the iron and steel work is an essential key by which to determine the nearness to completion.

President Wilson has met Colonel Goethals, and was most favorably impressed with him. Secretary Garrison has never met him, and is most anxious to do so. Military men of every arm of the service are awaiting the arrival of the colonel with interest, because only when he arrives will it be possible to ascertain just how near the canal is to completion.

The latest estimate made public by Colonel Goethals was that of last January, when he said that if those slides which actually retard the work did not exceed an additional 2,000,000 cubic yards, and if the contractors who were making the gates for the locks did not get further behind with their work than they then were, he would be able to close the locks by July 1. That would leave three months of the rainy season, all of which would be needed, to fill Gatun lake to its normal level and make possible the transportation of big ships through the canal. As the dry season begins in October and lasts for three months, delay from any cause in the closing of the gates beyond July 1 would mean more than a like delay in the usability of the canal, and, should the dry season prove very dry, might mean the canal could not be used until after January 1.

POLICE BUSINESS.

uch Scouting Done Sunday and Place on Cannon Street Raided.

There was some business before the ice court Sunday morning. One an, charged with larceny, received days in the Providence county jail th the addition of the working out the costs. Two revellers paid $5 d costs each. One man, charged th assault, pleaded not guilty and his case continued. Another man, n old acquaintance, went to jail for unkenness. A woman was re-leased. This morning the judge had thing to do; he had done it all nday.

Incidentally, the police had something to do Sunday. All could be ar-sted charged with "following their al occupation on Sunday," for all e night force was out on special ached scouting duty during the ight, and the day force was on after the night force. It was a eat day for scouting, and while ably some liquor was sold in un-ensed places, a great many others re really blockaded, so that there s little chance to do, more than look at passers-by and hope the police ll become tired.

There was one raid. About 10:50 e place at 11 Cannon street, kept by seph Stroer, and known as a "Ger-an boarding house," was entered by spector Tobin, Traffic Inspector ughlin and Officers Watson and ttle, and a considerable supply of ger beer was appropriated to the e of the police; 350 full bottles and empty ones, were included in the port of the census officer. There re, besides, small quantities of , though no more than might in any house. The police took it to the station. A number of men re in the place at the time, some whom were regular boarders or mers.

The police are investigating the se of Julius Robinson, a colored n who was arrested on a charge of unkenness a few days ago. It is ged that he has been masquerading der a false name, and has been presenting himself as a man of sev-professions. His actions have used serious comment among the red clergymen, and others as well.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT.

Constable Tallman of Portsmouth d one prisoner before the district rt this morning—a woman, arged with indecent intoxication. A e of $2 and costs was imposed d the prisoner, being without nds, went to jail. The prisoner, o was about 45 years of age, acted thing but pleasant when arraigned the court room. When the con-ble, in his ordinary calm voice, ered her to sit down, she snapped : "I won't sit down!" "All right! nd up!" replied the officer, no re concerned than before.

OFF FOR PRACTICE.

Atlantic Fleet, Six Ships Short, Must Curtail Divisional Exercises.

Due Back in Port Saturday—Sailors Well Behaved, and Little Work for "Beach Patrol."

The Atlantic fleet, 11 battleships, sailed for Block Island and vicinity this morning to be gone until Saturday. By 9 o'clock the last ship was entering the channel, while the Wyoming, which was leading the long line, was well out to sea. The ships departing are the Wyoming (fleet flagship) Florida (flagship), North Dakota, Delaware, New Hampshire, South Carolina, Virginia (flagship), Georgia, New Jersey, Rhode Island and Kansas.

The ships have gone out for fleet and divisional exercises, but the former of course must be much restricted, since the fleet is six ships short. During the past week, while the ships have been in the harbor, they have been having ship drills and machinery repairs, and yet at the very outstart the New Hampshire had trouble with her right-hand engine, though she was able to keep in the procession.

It has been customary for the ships to get back to port Friday afternoons, but this time they are to stay out until Saturday, and it is to be expected that they will arrive Saturday forenoon in time to anchor and get in port trim before dinner. Their next stop will be for less than the usual week.

Tug Ontario went to Providence Sunday afternoon to bring down the river an officer who would have arrived too late by train to connect with his ship.

Seemingly the "beach patrol" from the battleships has had little to do the past week, other than appear on the streets. The men have been particularly well behaved, which is ascribed to two reasons—the effectiveness of the patrol and the fact that the navy now has a high class of men. There has been comparatively little drunkenness, but one of the patrol was so unfortunate as to get under the influence Sunday evening, and he was promptly taken in charge by two other members of the patrol. He was not so much intoxicated but he realized even more strongly than did the citizens who saw him what it meant for him, for he was heard to remark, as the other two were taking him to a boat, that the caper would mean two years for him. The patrol is a serious thing in the navy for either the patrolman who goes wrong or the sailor who fails to do as he is directed by the patrol.

The work which the big tugs Ontario and Sonoma are doing for the Naval Station, Narragansett bay, while not employed on fleet duty is showing the great need of a tug for the station which is a capable craft. It is hoped that a good tug will be attached to the station—and by a good tug the naval authorities mean one which can go to sea as well as do duty in the bay.

CHILDREN'S SERVICES.

Special Exercises for Young People of the Roman Catholic Churches.

The weather conditions of Sunday morning did not look very favorable, but by the time the children of St. Mary's parish gathered for the annual May procession the sun was shining brightly, and the children had an ideal afternoon for their procession. The parents gathered early about the church to see the little ones march from the school down Levin street, and then there was a scramble to secure even standing room inside the edifice. The children arrayed in white, with veils and flowers and streaming banners, made a pretty picture. Only the girls' and young women's societies take part in this ceremony, but there were enough of these to make a long procession. The exercises in the church consisted of the reception of members in the various sodalities and societies, the taking of the vows, one girl for each society reciting the vows for all; singing by the girls and an address by the pastor, Rev. Father Meenan. Then came the procession back to the school and the dismissal of the girls.

There were also special services for the children at both St. Joseph's and St. Augustin's churches. At the latter there was a class of 54 boys and girls who received first communion at the children's mass at 8 o'clock, and in the afternoon were invested with the scapula by the pastor, Father Reddy, assisted by Father O'Rourke. This is the first communion class to receive in the new church. The members in the afternoon received the scapula. The May procession by the girls will take place next Sunday.

At St. Joseph's Church the boys and girls who formed the first communion class Saturday morning received the scapula at a special service in the church at 3:30 in the afternoon.

At all the services there was a large gathering of parents and others interested in the little ones.

A POLE OBSTRUCTION.

Protest Against Erection on Francis Street to Carry Electric Light Wires.

Mrs. Boutelle Noyes was looking for Chief K r tKwshlonrmtugoilSuum z Chief Kirwin this morning. When Admiral Luce and his family arose they found that holes had been dug in the Francis street sidewalk, and what the men preparing to erect poles. One of these poles, it was charged, threatened to be an obstruction to the entrance to the garage.

Last week the Board of Aldermen granted permission for the erection of these poles to carry electric light wires. The permission was granted only after the matter had been laid over two weeks to hear if there were any objections, and none were hard. This was thought rather peculiar, since the Rhode Island avenue district was the location of a bitter pole war about 25 years ago, when the telephone company attempted by various methods to put a pole line there. Both at the time the aldermen received the application for the erection of the present poles and when the permission was granted the fact was fully reported in the proceedings of the Board of Aldermen.

WIN FROM MIANETUCK.

Rogers Tennis Players Take Their Second Match, Showing Good Work.

The Rogers High School tennis team won its second match Saturday, defeating the Mianetuck Tennis Club's team three matches out of five, winning three of the single matches and losing a fourth single and the only double match. The last match was interesting, as Rogers took the first set and Mianetuck the second. The third was fast, and all four players did great work, but with the score 6 all Simmons and Jennings put on a burst of speed, and, although the losers ran both games to deuce, they won. Brown and Simmons in the singles had a strange match, Brown taking the match with two sets, the first and third, at 6-1, but the second going to Simmons, 6-0, Brown being unable to win one game. The summary:

Singles

J. S. Brown, Jr., Rogers, beat H. G. Simmons, Mianetuck, 6-1, 0-6, 6-1.

B. H. Sherman, Rogers, beat W. Williams, Mianetuck, 6-3, 6-2.

L. H. Hobbs Rogers, beat L. C. Jennings, Mianetuck, 6-3, 6-3.

P. H. Slocum, Mianetuck, beat C. L. Sherman, Rogers, 6-3, 6-4.

Doubles.

H. G. Simmons and L. C. Jennings, Mianetuck, beat J. S. Brown, Jr., and L. H. Hobbs, Rogers 5-7, 6-4.

Two members of the Rogers tennis team are to try for interscholastic honors again, J. S. Brown, Jr., and L. H. Hobbs having entered the Yale interscholastic tournament Saturday next. The Yale tournament is run on the same plan as the Harvard, which the Rogers players entered two weeks ago, but the entrants are not drawn from such large schools. Even at Yale, however, the Rogers men may not get away from last year's champions, as they had hoped to do at Cambridge, because Herd will probably play there, also.

JAMESTOWN.

Local Base Ball Team Defeats New Hampshires in a One-Sided Game.

The Jamestown base ball team defeated New Hampshires in a one-sided game Sunday afternoon, 15 to 2, the Jamestowns batting the three pitchers used against them when hits meant the most. The game was marred by a serious accident. The spikes on the shoes of the third baseman of the New Hampshire nine caught in the ground as he attempted to turn in fielding a hit in the sixth inning, and his leg was dislocated at the knee. He was cared for by his shipmates and taken on board ship for medical assistance.

The officers of the Delaware and Florida contended for base ball honors Sunday morning on the local team's field, the former winning by a score of 7 to 2. The game was witnessed by a considerable number of friends of the players and officers from the other battleships in the harbor, who took every occasion to cheer good plays.

There was a slight break in the water main near the West ferry Sunday afternoon. Rpairs were made before any damage was done.

The state board of good roads has a small force of men making repairs to the state roads on the island.

The number of excursionist and automobile parties to visit the island and to cross from ferry to ferry showed a material increase Sunday over any Sunday of the season thus far.

Miss Clara Howland of Providence spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geruge Howland, at their home on the Shore road.

Mr. F. J. Murphy of Newport was on the island this morning on business.

Mrs. H. L. Stevens and Miss Stevens of Newport visited their summer cottage on the South shore this forenoon.

MANY AT THE BEACH.

Crowds Enjoy the Board Walk and Patronize the Merry-Go-Round.

It seemed as if there were thousands at the beach Sunday. Some people are of the opinion that the development of the beach is going to mean the keeping in Newport of hosts of people who have heretofore gone to other places looking for a crowd. All day there was a good gathering, but in the afternoon huge crowds enjoyed the board walk. The merry-go-round was in operation and a number of refreshment booths were open. Not all of the hundreds who were there were Newporters, for there was a large patronage of the cars from Fall River, the Providence cars brought in many, and the first excursion of the season arrived from up the river, steamer Pontiac bringing a good-sized crowd. The work on the roller coaster, it is announced, will be completed by the end of the week, and then it will be run for about a week for practice, and to break it in.

FUNERAL OF MRS. DENNIS J. SULLIVAN.

The funeral of Catherine, widow of Dennis J. Sullivan, took place from her late residence, No. 61 Tilden avenue, this morning at 8 o'clock, and later to St. Joseph's Church, where Rev. Father O'Rourke, in the presence of a large congregation, celebrated a mass of requiem for the repose of her soul. The many handsome floral offerings testified to the high esteem in which the deceased was held. The interment was in the family plot at St. Columba's cemetery. The bearers were Messrs. P. J. Lyons, Daniel Sullivan, John J. Sullivan, Martin Heady, Patrick Kirby and Patrick Clune.

C B a La SPIRITE CORSETS

Comfort and Fashion Combined.

Much attention these days is given to the kind of a figure a woman has—certainly if not a La Mode it is as quickly commented upon as though its outline were the most extreme of fashion. Fashionable corsets are sometimes most uncomfortable, but we will vouch for the fitting comfort of the C B a La Spirite Corsets. They shape fashionably any type of figure, and will mould a pleasing figure for every woman, whatever her proportions. Flexible corseting is the fashion. No stiff, hard lines, but yielding and no appearance of a corset, so the latest Paris notes tell us.

RHODE ISLAND COAL'S END.

Director Says Company's Failure is Due to Stock-Jobbing Operations.

Conditions of wildest finance, rivaling the wildest exposures of Thomas W. Lawson, are alleged in the Rhode Island Coal Company, fathered by Henry M. Whitney, and in which Governor Eugene N. Foss was interested, in an astonishing statement which has been given to the Boston Journal by one of the directors. This man, William N. Souther, Jr., laid bare what he declared were wholesale stock-jobbing operations in connection with the company, as a result of which New England investors will have to suffer a loss of millions of dollars.

"The end has come," Mr. Souther said, "and the company is now being thrown aside by its promoters like a sucked lemon. The collapse of the company is due simply to the desire of a few men to make thousands by shameless stockjobbing rather than to settle down and develop the property."

While the desperate condition of Rhode Island Coal has been long known, Mr. Souther says, the property, about to pass from their hands forever, may yet be made to yield millions.

"Had the board of directors," he declares, "been satisfied with sound business, and started to develop the property, a good part of the visions with which they dazzled the public in a campaign of advertising might be on their way to realization today.

"Instead, the property has been made to serve the turn of a 'get rich quick' proposition. It is being thrown aside now like a sucked lemon, and disposed of for a paltry $50,000 to a firm that received a generous bonus in shares at the time the mortgage was put through, and has had every opportunity to make a profit from them far in excess of the value of the loan.

"Why the directors do not, instead of parting with the shareholders' property for a song, assess the stockholders for the remaining 50 per cent of the call on their shares, raise $210,000, and put the mine on a paying basis, is what I have been unable, even as a director, to learn.

"The last chance of the shareholders, many of them poor men whose savings were invested on the strength of glowing reports of the mine and who bought when the shares stood at a premium of $0 of recovering their money is about to disappear by a foreclosure by Hayden & Stone, who have made entry on the property to recover an $80,000 mortgage, the unpaid part of an original $100,000 loan.

"It is not correct to say that the report of experts who visited the mine at the time the company was reconstructed was adverse to carrying on more work. Professor John Conner of Scranton, Pa., one of the best known authorities on coal in America, who has been associated with John Hays Hammond in several mining propositions, spoke enthusiastically of the property."

WILSON'S ADMINISTRATION.

Bryan Not Only Fails to Do Any Dominating, But Has Not Tried.

Foreign Policies Announced as the President's—Woman Suffrage and the Tariff.

[Washington correspondence of The News]

WASHINGTON, May 17.—It is Wilson's administration. Those wise ones, like the dopesters on base ball, who foretold what was going to happen with Bryan in the cabinet are about as near right as their sporting brethren who made predictions about the national game. Not only has Bryan failed to do any dominating, but he has not tried. Every foreign policy is announced as that of President Wilson. No man could be more effaced in that regard than the Secretary of State. Every other cabinet officer takes more on himself than Mr. Bryan.

And there are two sets of people who are disappointed. One is that section of the Democratic party which so ardently admires Mr. Bryan and believes that he ought to dominate the administration he did so much to create. The other is a somewhat larger body of Republicans who want anything to happen which will make trouble in the Democratic camp. It would certainly be strange if this should be a peaceful administration in spite of all the direful prophecies that have been made.

During the closing hours of the debate on the tariff in the House Chairman Underwood pointed out how many members on the Republican side were insisting upon tariff changes to meet their local conditions.

"A tariff bill can never be written in that way," he said. "If you want to stand for protection you have got to be willing to protect the other fellow. If you want to stand for revision downward you have got to reduce yourself as much as you reduce the other fellow or you can't put it through." His remarks were addressed particularly to to the Minnesota men who had been criticising the reductions on wheat and farm products, but insisted on free furs because their people needed them in winter.

One might wonder why woman suffrage should be discussed in a tariff bill, but it is as apropos as placing a bomb in St. Paul's at London. A Washington state man offered an amendment to the Underwood bill providing for woman suffrage, basing it upon the fact that this was a tariff bill, that women paid a part of the tariff and were entitled to vote. There was a little debate. Congressman Heflin of Alabama taking the opposite side.

"I do not believe there is a red-blooded man in the world who in his heart really believes in woman suffrage," declared the Alabama man, adding, "I think every man who favors it ought to be made to wear a dress." All of which shows that one side can equal the other in absurdity.

It was Jim Mann who handed out to Oscar Underwood a bunch of sweet words on his birthday. Then along came John Langley of Kentucky and bestowed upon Finis J. Garrett, of Tennessee several sugar-coated sentences. Garrett had a birthday, and he, was presiding in the House as chairman of the committee of the whole during the tariff debate. He made a good one and deserved the nice things said about him by Langley for his fairness.

Senator Simmons of North Carolina has already shown that he intends to be chairman of the finance committee. Several men have offered to lend a helping hand, "relieve him of the burden," as it were, but the North Carolinian gives them all to understand that he can run the committee. More particularly is this the case when the help is offered from the Republican side.

Every Congress we have had with us that bill to prevent the desecration of the American flag—that is, to prevent the use of the flag or its counterpart for advertising purposes. But the bill never gets through. I believe that as a compliment to the venerable short term senator from Tennessee, Mr. Webb, they did allow the bill to pass the Senate near the close of the last session, but it never got anywhere. The fact is that the passage of such a bill would put a lot of trade devices out of business. There are many things which use the stars and stripes for advertising and trademarks which would have to stop if this time honored bill should ever pass.

When reference is made to the "committee on disposition of useless papers" the average person thinks it is a joke, but not so. Not long ago the Speaker announced that Talbott of Maryland and Kelley of Michigan should be members of the House end of such a joint committee. And there are clerks and messengers who look after the destruction of such useless papers.

JOHN B. LEWIS DEAD.

Prominent Resident of New Shoreham Ill Only a Short Time.

Mr. John B. Lewis, a prominent resident of New Shoreham, died Friday evening after a short illness of pneumonia. The funeral took place Sunday from the First Baptist Church, and was largely attended. The members of Neptune Lodge, I. O. O. F., were present in a body, and performed the burial rites of the order at the grave. Rev. Horace J. Roberts officiated at the church.

Mr. Lewis met with a serious accident about five years ago, falling and striking on the back of his head, and since that time had not regained his former good health. Last Monday he was taken with a chill, from which pneumonia developed, resulting in his death. His condition was not generally known to his friends on the island, and his death was a shock to nearly all who knew him.

Mr. Lewis was a son of the late William F. and Wealthy (Dodge) Lewis, and was in his sixty-third year. He was raised on the old homestead on Block Island, and spent nearly all his life there as a farmer. He was not interested in politics, although always a staunch Republican. A strong personality, he had a wide circle of friends in his home town and was a devout member of the First Baptist Church of the island. Mr. Lewis was unmarried, and is survived by two brothers, Ray T. Lewis and Jesse Lewis, and by one sister, Mrs. H. A. Ball.

MORGAN MEMORIAL AT AIX-LES-BAINS OPENED.

The Leon Blanc Hospital, given by the late J. Pierpont Morgan to the city of Aix-les-Bains as a memorial to his former physician, Dr. Leon Blanc, has been formally opened by the mayor in the presence of representative of the Red Cross and of a number of medical organizations. A great gold medal which was to have been given to Mr. Morgan was received by Walter Burns, nephew, and Henry P. Davison, son-in-law, of the late financier. On behalf of the Morgan family, Mr. Davison gracefully acknowledged the eulogies uttered in connection with Mr. Morgan and Dr. Leon Blanc. He then announced a gift of $3,000 from the Morgan family to the institution.

My kidneys caused me no end of trouble and I had severe pains through my loins. The kidney secretions contained sediment and were irregular in passage. I was restless at night and felt tired and languid upon arising in the morning. Hearing about Doan's Kidney Pills I procured a supply at Wright & Hay's Drug Store and they restored me to good health."

BABY DISFIGURED WITH ECZEMA

From Head to Foot. Spread Over Scalp. Every Bit of Hair Came Out. Head and Face Crusty Mass. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

Cranberry Isles, Me. — "My baby's body was completely covered with eczema. It was about six weeks old when it started. It came on his forehead first, then spread all over his scalp so that every bit of his hair came out. The eczema came in big blotches on his face and neck, which after a few days all ran into a solid mass. He used to scratch them and sometimes he would make the blood come. It was in the scaly form on his body, but his head and face seemed to be crusty mass.

"I tried an ointment for him but it did not do him any good. I tried this one week and by that time baby was one mass of eczema from head to foot. He used to be quite restless nights, and while he had the eczema he did not grow a bit. He was terribly disfigured. I sent and got some Cuticura Ointment and Soap. I used the Cuticura Soap night and morning in a warm bath, and then covered him with the Cuticura Ointment and he was cured in two months. He is [illegible] months old now and has got a nice head of hair and is free from eczema." (Signed) Mrs. Lena E. Spurling, Mar. 20, 1912.

For red, rough, chapped and bleeding hands, itching, burning palms, and painful finger-ends, a one night Cuticura treatment works wonders. Soak hands, on retiring, in hot water and Cuticura Soap. Dry, anoint with Cuticura Ointment, and wear old, loose gloves during the night. Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold everywhere. Sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Tender-faced men should use Cuticura Soap Shaving Stick, 25c. Sample free.

The Daily News at this time of the year, especially, offers a most excellent registry for those having furnished rooms to rent, with or without board, or as a means for securing rooms, tenements or board. The paper not only covers the local field as few papers do, but the cost of such advertisements is so low that no one desiring boarders or tenants can afford to do without them.

cellent game for St. George's, but was wild at times and the bases on balls counted materially in the Harvard scoring. Coolidge allowed six hits and gave three bases on balls, and these, with four errors, amounted to only two runs for St. George's. McIlwaine batted, making three hits out of four times at the bat. The game between the Kansas and the New Jersey teams at Wellington Park Saturday afternoon was an extraordinary batting game. The New Jersey team made 19 and the Kansas 30 safe hits, and with all this heavy batting Kansas made but one error and New Jersey two. With all the batting New Jersey made but six runs, while Kansas scored 24. New Jersey started the second inning making four runs. In the next Kansas came back with six, made six more in the fifth and seven in the eighth, with a few scattering runs for good measure in between. New Jersey added two to the score. The line-up was as follows:

Kansas—Donals, c. f.; Reynolds, 3b.; Kittel, 1b.; Boberg, 2b.; Shay, r. f.; Sommers, s. s.; Tichler, l. f.; Pike, c.; Bohks, p.

New Jersey—Billings, 2b.; Pickersgill, l. f.; Williams, r. f.; Calloway, s. s.; Coogan, 1b.; Stevens, c.; Guy, c. f. and p.; Schmidt, 3b.; Goodwin, p.; and c. f.; Bruhn, p.

Runs—Kansas, 24; New Jersey, 6. Hits—Kansas, 30, New Jersey, 19. Errors—Kansas, 1; New Jersey 2.

At the Training Station Sunday the Fort Adams team defeated the Training Station in a lively game, 8 to 4, the former thus winning the second game in the series. It was a pitchers' contest, Aiken, the Fort pitcher, having the best of it, and holding the sailors to no hits for six innings. Greathouse led in the batting, with two home runs. Diehl, the Training Station shortstop, made a sensational play in the sixth, when with two men on bases, Maynard drove out what looked like a two-bagger. Diehl ran and with one hand caught the ball. The Fort Adams team played with but one error.

The Trojans will meet the Attleboro team at Wellington Park Sunday next, and hope to even up the series between these teams. The Attleboro management intends to strengthen the team by three new players—a second baseman, a pitcher and an outfielder, who, it was learned Saturday, was O'Connell, centre fielder of the Lawrence New England League team.

SORENSEN—NICKELSEN.

The marriage of Miss Kristine Nickelsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Soren Nickelsen, to Mr. Carl E. Sorensen took place Saturday evening at Trinity Church parsonage, the ceremony being performed by the rector, Rev. Stanley C. Hughes. Owing to unexpected orders received by the groom calling him to join his vessel at Norfolk, the plans for a home wedding Tuesday had to be given up, although there will be a reception on that evening for those invited. The bride looked charming in a gown of white brocade satin en traine, and carrying a bouquet of red roses. A sister, Miss Elsie M. Nickelsen, acted as bridesmaid, wearing blue silk and carrying white roses, while Mr. William E. D. Christiansen acted as best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Sorensen's future home will be a new cottage on Russell avenue.

BUILDING PERMITS.

Failure to Apply Before Work is Started Noticeable in Some Cases.

During the past week a number of building intentions have been filed and permits granted, but it is particularly noticeable this week that some fail to apply for permission to build until long after the work has been started. In one instance in the present list the work has been practically completed before the paper was filed. The permits are as follows:

L. N. Lawrence, 94 Thames street, new window in bakery front.

NEW YORK, May 19, Wall Street—The market opened with Amalgamated Copper 74, Baltimore & Ohio 98⅞, Brooklyn Rapid Transit 91¼, Canadian Pacific 236⅞, Great Northern preferred 125⅝, Missouri Pacific 34, New York Central 99⅞, Pennsylvania 110⅝, Reading 159¾, Rock Island 17⅛, Southern Pacific 96⅛, Union Pacific 149⅝, United States Steel 59⅞, Wabash preferred 7⅝.

10—Opening prices of stocks today disclosed irregular changes. A majority of the leaders began the session fractionally higher, but in the first few minutes of trading eased off. Rock Island common and preferred and St. Louis and San Francisco 2nd preferred made new low records for the year. The copper shares were heavy.

11—Reactionary tendencies of the market leaders did not amount to much, buying orders appearing after fluctuations reached half a point and several new low records were made. St. Louis and San Francisco 2nd preferred slumped four points to 13.

Noon—Acute weakness of St. Louis and San Francisco and other low priced railroad stocks put the general market to a test, under which it gave indications of underlying strength. St. Louis and San Francisco common and second preferred dropped 5 points each, and the first preferred 12 points. No authoritative explanation of the movement was made. Rock Island stocks and bonds also were weak. Fluctuations among the more prominent shares were small and, although some irregularity cropped out at intervals, the general undertone was good. Bears were unable to create uneasiness by the abrupt decline of some of the weaker issues, and their failure to influence sentiment advisedly caused some covering which raised the general level of some important stocks above last week's close. Bonds were irregular. Money on call, steady, at 2¾ per cent. Prime mercantile paper 5¼ @ ½ per cent. Exchanges, $231,114,924; balances $12,714,879.

LOOKED LIKE A WRECK.

Schooner Gets Out of Perilous Position Near Castle Hill.

The life saving crew had a call for what looked like a sure wreck this morning. A schooner was discovered between the shore and Butter Ball rock, known also as "The Washbowl," south of Castle Hill. At first it was supposed she was aground, but it was seen she had two anchors out and was afloat. Champion's launch was sent to her assistance, the Solicitor being at the repair shops. She caught a line in her wheel and had to be assisted by another of the Champion fleet. Then Captain Kenyon had a wireless call sent for wrecking tug Acushnet, and she was on her way here when the crew of the schooner succeeded in getting the vessel out of her perilous position and took her to the Newport shipyard, whither she was bound. She is a whaling schooner from New Bedford, bound here to haul out.

RED MEN AT CHURCH.

Tribe Listens to Words of Wisdom from Prophet Porter at Emmanuel.

Indians Exhorted to Seek for Improvement of Body, Mind and Soul.

Two hundred Red Men took up the trail to Emmanuel Church Sunday evening to listen to words of wisdom from Prophet Porter and sweet-sounding voices from Chief Hendy and his blanketed pale faces. It is the tribe's second visit to this church, they having attended service there a year ago, on the occasion of their twenty fifth anniversary.

Pale Face Freeman, with his band horn-blowers and tomtom beaters from Fort Adams, led the trail to and from the church, the Thames street trail being the route taken, Mishinawa J. Harry Brown directing the party. The trailing chiefs in their red sashes attracted much attention, particularly from the sailors from the fleet, and there were many pale faces all along the trailsides.

The entire centre of the church was reserved until after the Indians had taken their places, and then the pale faces who came in filled every available seat in the structure. There was a voluntary on the organ under the operation of Chief Hendy, followed by the usual service, with Rev. Edward Luke Reed reading the lessons. Prophet Porter then took the rostrum and announced as his text, Nehemiah IV:6. "So built we the wall, * * * for the people had a mind to work."

The prophet said that for his purposes he would transpose the title of the order, so that it would be Order of the Improved Red Men, and on this line he spoke on the improvement of body, mind and soul. He said we do not take care of our physical condition as we should; that we take too little air and pay too little attention to sanitation, too little heed to the food we eat and the draughts which play on us, while we are over-indulgent in tobacco and beverages. It was Prophet Porter's desire to call attention to the ordinary simple things which we all know, yet, of which all are heedless.

Speaking of the present-day agitation for clean bills of health for parties about to marry, Prophet Porter said that, while such a matter might be carried too far, there is something in it. He himself, he admitted, had married people who had no right to be married, and they were propagating children who should not be.

In taking up the second division of his subject, Prophet Porter spoke of the neglect of our intellectual beings. He said many confine this part of their care to the reading of the daily papers and discussing the matters of the day, scandal and otherwise. In the new dictionary, he said, there are 500,000 words, yet we use regularly only a vocabulary of 400. We claim we are too weary after our day's work for mental culture, and yet there are those persons who do find time and who know where to procure the good books which mean so much to the man or woman who learns to use them. It is a lack of foresight on the part of parents, Prophet Porter said, not to have their children acquire a liking for good books and cultured conversations, as it would mean much to them in the way of companionship through life.

Spiritually, we are disposed to be most neglectful, and to a dangerous degree, said Prophet Porter. While the surgeons may not have been able to discover the soul or its resting place, there are few persons who believe it is not real. No man advances who does not hold as his real ideal the advancement of his spiritual being.

Such an order as the Red Men, said Prophet Porter, should seek more for the improvement of members along these lines, and they would be bound to increase in usefulness. Like the men in his text, who worked with the sword in one hand and the trowel in the other, the Red Men should work for their ritualistic preachings and also for their spiritual welfare, and with such work they would be able to carry out their ambitious desire for a fine building which would have a real meaning to the people.

The hymns used during the service were familiar and, led by the choir, the men lifted their voices, filling the edifice with words of praise. The singing on these occasions has been one of the features of the service to the regular attendants of the church.

MR. LEONARD THOMAS ILL WITH APPENDICITIS.

It was learned here yesterday that Mr. Leonard M. Thomas, a well known summer resident of Newport, who married Miss Blanche M. Oelrichs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles May Oelrichs, was operated upon for appendicitis at his apartments, No. 12 East Eighty-Seventh street, in New York Friday evening. The operation was successful, and Mr. Thomas's condition satisfactory. Mrs. Charles M. Oelrichs left here Sunday evening for New York, and will bring the two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas to her cottage here to remain until the T. F. Cushman villa, which Mr. Thomas has rented, is ready for occupancy. When Mr. Thomas is sufficiently recovered he and Mrs. Thomas will come to Newport for the summer.

Services in the Various Churches—Chimney Fire Causes Some Excitement.

[Regular correspondence of The News.]

Rev. Anson B. Howard preached a sermon at St. Paul's Sunday morning especially appropriate to Trinity Sunday. The text was taken from Hebrews XI:3, and Mr. Howard illustrated his subject clearly. He said that water was manifested in three ways—water, ice and steam—but was still water, and that heat, light and motion, essentially the same, also represented the Trinity. Miss Florence Allen, the organist, was in New York, and as no one could be found to supply her place the song service was omitted.

As Bishop Perry is expected soon, Mr. Howard began a series of confirmation lessons in the church Sunday afternoon.

Rev. James M. Estes, pastor of the Friends' Church, preached Sunday morning from the text found in Ruth I:15, 16, his subject being "Ruth's Wise Choice." It was announced that Mrs. Mary Jane Weaver, a minister of the Society of Friends, from the West, now in attendance at the New York Yearly Meeting, will preach at the Friends' Meeting House Sunday, June 1, in the morning. Mrs. Weaver is considered one of the most powerful speakers in that denomination.

Sunday morning at the Christian Church the pastor, Rev. Albert Loucks, preached from Galatians V:1.

Rev. John Wadsworth of the Methodist Episcopal Church spoke Sunday morning from Psalms 1:3, and in the evening from Ezekiel IX:4. Mr. and Mrs. Wadsworth received a surprise the last of the week in the shape of a May basket. That the numerous gifts might be put into one receptacle, it was necessary to procure the largest sized clothes basket, and even this was heaped high. It had been trimmed with crepe paper and held provisions of many kinds, as well as candy, and at the bottom, in an envelope, was $32. Miss Edna Brophy had the matter in charge and made a great success. Mrs. Wadsworth is able to go about house in a wheel chair, and occasionally out of doors, but there seems little improvement in her condition.

The Portsmouth delegates to the one hundred and twenty-third Episcopal diocesan convention to be held in Trinity Church, Newport, Tuesday, are Messrs. Franklin Porter, B. Earl Anthony and William B. Anthony.

Considerable excitement was caused by a chimney fire in the tenement house belonging to the estate of Mr. William H. Cory and occupied by Mr. Joseph T. Borden and family and Mr. Henry Church and family on the upper floor, and Mr. David B. Anthony on the first floor as a barber shop. It proved to be a case of neglected cleaning, for after the fire was extinguished eight or ten pails of soot were taken from the chimney. Andrew Malone was the principal worker at the fire, but was assisted by others of the little crowd which gathered.

To celebrate his fifth birthday anniversary, little Allison Almy, son of Mr. and Mrs. William N. Almy, was surprised Friday afternoon by a party of young friends, who were entertained with music, all kinds of games and singing until late in the afternoon, when a large birthday cake was served to the little guests by Master Almy. The young folks were joined for supper by their parents and others, two tables being filled. The dining room decorations were of blue and white crepe paper, with a large centrepiece for each of the tables of white lilies and wisteria. Master Almy received many presents.

Chicken thieves were abroad last week, having taken 100 small chick from the vicinity of St. Mary's Church and a large number from the vicinity of Mint Water Brook. A few shotguns have been prepared for the next visit of the thieves.

The Friday night dance at Oakland hall was another in the many under the management of Messrs. Arthur A. Sherman, Leroy Dennis and Jesse I. Durfee which have called out large crowds since their beginning last fall. Next Friday evening will be the last.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sherman, who have been occupying the upper tenement of Mrs. William B. Franklin's house, corner of East Main road and Turnpike avenue, have broken up housekeeping for the present and stored their goods in Tiverton. Mr. Sherman has secured a position on fishing steamer Holland Wilcox of Mystic, Conn., and his family have gone there, to be near him. Mr. Frank L. Tallman's freight automobile took the goods to Tiverton.

In speaking of "The Portsmouth Bugle" in Saturday's paper, the words "next quarter" should have been used instead of "next year," as the present year does not end until December 18.

Mrs. William Alfred Chase of Ferry Neck celebrated her birthday Sunday by dining with her son, Mr. Walter B. Chase, and family—her first outing since last Christmas. She was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Clara Chase. Her niece, Mrs. William Jennings of Fall River, called on her, as she did on Mrs. Frank Benedict of Bristol Ferry. A number of other friends remembered her.

Mr. William R. Mosher, who has been clerk for several months in Chase & Son's grocery store, has taken a position as painter, that being his trade, at the Portsmouth Coaling Station at Bradford.

Mr. Clifford Smith of Newport visited Little Compton, last week.

Mrs. O. O. Wright has gone to Bretton Woods, N. H., for a week, accompanied by her daughter Lucy.

Mrs. George S. Sherman has gone to help care for Mrs. William Langley, who is very ill at the home of her sister, Mrs. Phebe Durfee, on the East Main road, near the Middletown line.

Mrs. Francis P. Conway has been guest of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Chase.

Miss Lillly Preble of Newport has been guest for a few days of Mrs. William H. Sanford and family, at "Morning Side".

Mrs. Josiah Gifford is making a visit to her niece, Mrs. Jesse Le Valley, of Middletown.

Mrs. Mary Delaney of East Greenwich is guest of Mrs. Peleg A. Coggeshall for an indefinite period.

Mrs. Kate Bailey has gone to New Bedford to visit her sons and their families.

Mr. Frederick Lawton, who is in the employ of the Lane Construction Company at Northfield, Mass., came home Friday to visit his family.

Miss Annie Sweeney of Fall River has been visiting Mrs. Alphonso Daysol.

TROJANS LOSE BOTH GAMES.

Play Good Ball, but Collegians and Attleboros Are Too Much for Them.

Rogers Defeats Bristol—St. George's Beaten by Harvard—Kansas Wins from New Jersey.

It was agreed by all that the game put up by the Providence Collegians at Wellington Park Sunday was a fine exhibition of clean, fast base ball. There was no delay by the visitors, the game was played as if the men wished to give people something to remember, and the plays were generally fast and accurate. For eight full innings the play went without a run or an error, and in this time the visitors had made seven hits and the Trojans three. The Trojans had worked out three double plays which made havoc with the scoring chances of the visitors, and the visitors had one to their credit, which nipped one of the most promising chances the Trojans had to score.

At the end it was considerable of a disappointment to see the game handed to the visitors without anything which looked like a base hit; yet that is what was done. One fumble, with a going-to-sleep accompaniment, and two wild throws did the work, and the visitors had two runs. It was a sure victory for the visitors, but the Trojans surprised every one by securing one after two men were out. Harvey hit safely, and West followed with a double just to the right foul line, and a shutout was averted.

The attendance was large, the grand stand being well filled. It was the first day that the weather has been really fit for spectators or players either, and the attendance showed that people are ready to see good games. The playing field was kept clear of spectators, and there was no fear of a collision between a runner and some of the numerous small boys and girls playing in the field. On the first ball hit Gillies made a run to the right field ropes and caught a foul which no player could have caught under the old conditions on the field, or lack of conditions.

The play opened sharp and the fielding was clean-cut and generally fast, especially by the visitors, though the Trojans also gave a good exhibition. Cooney made one star back-hand catch, off Donohue, in the fourth, and he and Harvey covered a lot of ground and covered it well. West and Eckstrom were the disappointments of the Trojan field. The outfielding on both sides was fast and clean, and every one had something to do. Long legs in right for the visitors showed how territory could be covered with neatness and accuracy.

For six innings it looked as though at any time the visitors were going to break up Sheehan's pitching. They came close to doing something in the third when Wetmore and Gero opened with safe hits and Arnold drew his second pass, but Wetmore was doubled up on Sullivan's long fly, which Gillies surprised the visitors by catching, and Gero was forced at third. After the sixth inning nothing looking like a hit was made off Sheehan. On the other hand, in the first six innings the Trojans had made but two hits off Gero, and one was a very scratchy one, due to poor grounds.

Wetmore gave a good exhibition of catching and Donohue made people think of what is so seldom seen—a real first-class first-sacker. The catchers had little opportunity to show their throwing skill, and there was no wild running. The few attempts the Trojans made at bunting would not have received commendation in the Grammar School league. The score:

The Trojans went to Attleboro Saturday and played their first out-of-town game, losing 8 to 7, in ten innings. O'Connell pitched his first game of the season and was batted hard, 16 hits, with a total of 19 bases, showing that the Attleboro bats were busy and the Trojan fielders had some leather hunting to do. The Trojans also did some hitting, 8, with a total of 10 bases, being their contribution. They started in all right by counting four times in the first half of the first inning, errors being largely responsible for this score. Later, though they could steal bases, they could not get home often, and after the home team had evened in the seventh they pulled into the lead in the tenth.

In the absence of Cooney, J. Martin of the High School played third and did a lot of work. Two put-outs and seven assists without an error show he was not asleep during the game. The Trojans had eight stolen bases to their credit. The score by innings:

After five innings of no score for Rogers, Arnold smashed out a drive for three bases and sent Wilks home, scoring the first man of the six which Rogers made when the team beat Colt Memorial High School of Bristol, 6 to 1, at the Civic League lot Saturday afternoon. It was a strange game, as the Rogers boys, in the field, played one of the best games there this season, but at bat were unable to find Leahy, the Colt pitcher, for five innings. Fifteen batters faced him in the five innings, and only one reached base, but after two errors and Arnold's triple the game was easy for Rogers. Sayer pitched his first game for the home team in two weeks, and he was in good form, holding Colt to five scattered hits, and, while he struck out only eight men, there was perfect support behind him all the while, making the game good to watch.

Colt scored its only run in the second, when Gray reached base through a double, and came home later on a poor catch by Wilks of a throw from the field. Wilks redeemed himself, however, in the seventh, when, with two men on, he drove out the ball for three bases, and sent the two men home. Saturday was a year from the day when Wilks distinguished himself in Bristol, laying the same team, when he scored two men with a home run on Bristol Common diamond. Rogers's fielding game was one of the cleanest of the season, Wilks's error in the second being the only one until the ninth, when Arnold was careless and made two errors and Wilks made a wild heave to second.

It seemed as if Rogers was to be disappointed again by the Bristol team, as last Tuesday, as the visitors had not arrived at 3 o'clock. They were expected by launch, so Manager Geraghty had several motorcycle and bicycle scouts searching the waterfront, and about 3:30 the team arrived, accompanied by a party of "fair fans."

The first five innings were played in short time, each half inning requiring an average of but four and one half minutes for play. Each time Rogers came to bat the first three men were retired, and three of Colt's times at bat were the same. In the fifth inning Sayer pitched but four balls, for the three outs, and in the sixth five balls, one of them being hit for Kemp's two-bagger. It was in the sixth inning that the ice was broken for Rogers's run getting. Tubley went on through an error, but was out stealing third. Another error put Wilks on, and Sayer struck out. Arnold then came up and drove Wilks home with a three-bagger, and Diggles ended the inning by fanning.

The next inning was productive of three runs, through Wilks's triple, two more hits by Pinto and Cottrell, two errors, a base on balls and a passed ball. Connolly reached base through one of Williams's numerous errors, went to second on a passed ball, and stole third. Martland struck out, Pinto hit safely, Connolly came in on the third baseman's error, and Cottrell hit safely, but Pinto was out stealing third. Tubley walked, and then it was that Wilks made his triple. Sayer was out on a fly to right, ending the inning.

In the eighth, Rogers's last batting time, two runs were scored, with Arnold leading off. The Rogers batters had at last found Leahy, and three hits came in the inning. Arnold singled safely to left, and reached second when the fielder booted the ball. He stole third, Diggles fanned, and Arnold came home when Connolly went on through another Williams error. Arnold scored at the same time, but Connolly was out stealing second. Martland hit safely and stole second, and scored on Pinto's second hit. Cottrell struck out, and that was the last Roger's batting. Arnold must have gotten nervous when Colt came to bat for the last time, for he played with a grounder long enough for a man to reach frist. The next man put up a fly in back of second base, of which Pinto made a great catch, and then he threw to first, catching the man there off base and making a double play. Another hit to Arnold, and again he fondled the ball until the man was afe. He went to second on a wild throw from Wilks, but a pinch hitter, Hill, struck out, ending the game. The line-up and summary follow:

The afternoon and evening services Sunday at the Methodist Episcopal Church were well attended. The pastor, Rev. E. E. Wells, took as the themes for the day "The Sign of Power" and "Some Twentieth Century Idols." Mr. C. LeRoy Grinnell, who acted as organist at the dedication, will continue in this capacity for the present, playing at the afternoon services. The regular organist, Miss Sadie E. Peckham, played in the evening. Sunday there was an augmented choir, assisted by Mr. Frank Peckham, cornetist, and the Ladies' Trio sang "Jesus, I my cross have taken," by Clarence S. Hamilton.

Rev. Mr. Wells is planning to give through June a series of talks on "The Home:" first—"Scriptural Marriage;" second, "Duty of Parents to Children;" third, "Duty of Children to Parents;" fourth, "Our Mothers;" fifth, "Home Guards."

The presentation of the offerings of the Junior Auxiliaries of the diocese at Holy Cross Church Saturday will mark one more important day in the life of this active and busy church. The morning service will be held soon after the arrival of the Providence guests. There will be a luncheon for them at noon, with a basket lunch for those generally attending. The offerings will be presented at the afternoon session.
